Large Music, LLC

Large Music is a privately held music company formed in 1993 in Chicago, Illinois. The company's reputation as America's premiere house music label extends worldwide. Established artists such as Kerri Chandler, DJ Sneak, Miguel Migs, DJ Rasoul, Roy Davis Jr., and Derrick Carter have all contributed to the sound that is simply known by music lovers as "Large".

Collectively, the Large Music catalog has been licensed in over 20 countries and has appeared on over 300 compilations including Mark Farina's Mushroom Jazz, Naked Music's Nude Dimensions and Ibiza's prestigious Café Del Mar Series. The seminal release "Gabriel" by Roy Davis Jr. reached the UK Top Twenty in the fall of 1998 and was featured in the critically acclaimed Alvin Ailey Dance Theatre World Tour. In the summer of 2002, MTV featured tracks from the album The Rhythm Lounge on the Chicago edition of The Real World.

2002 also saw Large Music explode onto the CD market with 3 back to back releases entitled The Rhythm Lounge, Electro Jazz 1.0, and Sound Deluxe (mixed by DJ RaSoul). All three CD releases graced the pages of important dance magazines like BPM and Mixer with rave reviews while retail giants Tower Records and Virgin Mega Stores featured all three releases in listening posts throughout the United States. Always a force in the underground, Large has now established a position in the global mainstream dance market culture.
